

St Barnabas library in Leicester chooses Style for folding wall

Style installed a Stylefold 120 folding wall with integrated vision panels in a performance area of the library. This houses twelve PCs, a projector and viewing screen, and the folding wall allows the area to be separated off or opened up to the wider library for large performances.

Its real wood oak veneer offers the perfect complement to the interior design of the building, and the 31dB acoustic rating gives peace to visitors in the library when the folding wall is in place.

“Our Stylefold 120 folding wall is a simple, yet very effective, solution for quickly dividing space,” said Steve Williams, sales director for Style Midlands.

“And by integrating the vision panels gives the whole area an expansive, open plan feel and maximises the light in the room.

“It opens up new options for the library to host events and offer a great deal more to the local community than simply book lending and information services.”
