

When was your partitioning wall last serviced?

Many educational establishments now benefit from one or more partitioning wall systems, delivering flexibility to available space by allowing smaller classrooms to be quickly created, as required. As with any product, the lifespan of a moveable wall can be dramatically extended with routine servicing and timely repairs. Partitioning experts Style, recommends a service contract as the most cost-effective solution, helping ensure safe operation and maximum acoustic performance long into the future.

With nearly 20yrs experience in the design, installation and maintenance of moveable wall systems, Style offers a comprehensive aftercare service supported by a nationwide team of in-house trained engineers. A service plan allows for improved budgeting and reduced system down time, but Style also offers a 'call out' service for one-off repairs and emergencies. Style can service almost any moveable wall, even if they were not involved in the original installation.
