Moveable walls can be a vital resource for hospitality as they enable businesses to increase revenue by using the same space for more events. Crown Banqueting, a wedding venue, recently worked with operable wall specialist Style to design and install a sophisticated partitioning system for their event space. Delivering excellent acoustic privacy between divided areas, the sliding wall panels can be quickly manoeuvred into place, allowing Crown Banqueting to cater for up to 700 guests. Style also employs a nationwide network of service and repair professionals. Regular servicing effectively extends the safe working life of the system, sometimes for as long as 25 years. style-partitions.co.uk
