Jaipur presents Inde Rose – an iconic collection of coordinated rugs

The Inde Rose collection is a coming together of Jaipur Rugs, which has more than four decades of experience in the artisanal carpets market, and Vinita Chaitanya, who, for more than 30 years, has been designing exquisite, exclusive spaces that celebrate glamour and luxury, while staying true to India's design heritage and craft traditions.

Vinita drew from the image of a rose in bloom for the collection, which is made in silk with 121 knots per square inch, and employs a sculpting technique locally known as gultaraash – quite literally, the pruning done by a gardener.

Inde Rose incorporates five carpet pairings, each with one graphic-heavy piece, and a visually lighter one to complement it. This allows the user to create unique combinations of colour and texture according to their preference. The palette draws from the jewel tones of Indian miniature paintings, but filters them through a contemporary lens, transforming them into dusty pinks, pale jades, and muted blues and purples.

Inde Rose is a beautiful illustration of Jaipur Rugs' expertise in amalgamating the vision of designers and creatives with the ancient weaving techniques of rural India.

Style supplies The Londoner with multiple moveable walls

Dubbed 'the world's first super-boutique hotel,' The Londoner offers a collection of spaces, tastes and experiences, brought to life across 16 elegant storeys. Delivering flexible space to cater for a myriad of impressive events, Style installed a 6m-high Skyfold vertical-rising moveable wall in the main ballroom, as well as a combination of Dorma Hüppe Variflex sliding walls and smaller Skyfold systems throughout the event areas.

This focus on adaptable space, combined with Style's expertise in delivering partitioning walls with impeccable acoustic performance, gives the hotel multiple options for opening out or dividing the available areas and maximising room hire revenue.

Allowing two events to run concurrently, the main ballroom is divided by a fully automatic Skyfold moveable wall. Discreetly housed in the ceiling cavity, the wall descends effortlessly into place at the push of a button and offers an impressive 59dB Rw acoustic rating.

In the hotel's meeting rooms, Style installed semi-automatic Dorma Hüppe Variflex double-glazed moveable walls with 52dB Rw acoustic ratings and fully glazed pass doors. The meeting areas are then further sub-divided using smaller Skyfold vertical-rising walls.
