

Global bank specifies style to divide spacious new offices

Capital One recently relocated their London offices to the prestigious White Collar Factory development. A showcase for modern, agile working practices, partitioning experts Style worked with architects, HLW International LLP, and contractor, BW Workplace Experts, to create flexible room configuration in the meeting area. Style installed a DORMA Moveo semi-automatic glazed moveable wall, creating two substantial sized meeting rooms. A second DORMA wall divides that space into two additional, smaller rooms.
