Interface unveils refresh of Heuga 727 range

Interface, a worldwide commercial flooring company and global leader in sustainability, has unveiled a refresh of its popular Heuga 727 product. This mainstay collection has been one of the company's most popular ranges since its launch in 2010.

The refreshed collection features 48 colours ranging from soft greys and warm neutrals, to lush blues and greens, and vivid reds and oranges. The rich variety of tones ensures interior designers and fit-out companies can find flooring to suit their space, either as a single block colour or by combining multiple options.

Heuga 727 is also compatible with other Interface carpet tiles, LVT and nora® rubber flooring, enabling maximum creativity in flooring design. The tiles use CQuest™ Bio backing – a non-vinyl, non-bitumen backing made with a bio-composite, containing bio-based and recycled fillers which are net carbon negative.

Mandy Leeming, design director EAAA at Interface, said: "Heuga 727 has been enduringly popular for 11 years thanks to its high quality, excellent durability and value-for-money price point, so we've refreshed the colours available to reflect changing and emerging trends. The new palette features 48 colours ranging from soft greys and neutrals to intense primary tones. There really is something to suit every mood board and design theme. As with all Interface carpet tiles, Heuga 727 is carbon neutral across its full product lifecycle and verified through our Carbon Neutral Floors programme™ – part of our ongoing commitment to reduce our carbon impact, restore the planet and reverse global warming."

Over the past 11 years, Heuga 727 has been a firm favourite of fit-out companies and interior designers, appearing in offices, education facilities and other workspaces across the country.

Interface is a global flooring company specializing in carbon neutral carpet tile and resilient flooring, including luxury vinyl tile (LVT) and nora® rubber flooring.

CTD Architectural Tiles' fashionable contribution to high end clothing chain Leading commercial tile supplier CTD Architectural Tiles worked with Argent Design and EB Design to complete the latest store for luxury clothing chain, Flannels, in St Helens.

The new branch was opened as part of the leading designer clothing brand's exciting expansion strategy, and portraying Flannels' reputation for luxury through the interior design was a vital element of the brief.

The vision was brought to life with the use of CTD Architectural Tiles' Lisbon range, with the tiles laid in a basket weave pattern to create an eye-catching feature floor. The Lisbon range can be used for both floors and walls, and is the ideal choice for the store – which is expected to have high footfall – due to its highly non-slip porcelain surfaces.

Using geometric symmetry in the tile layout created a classic look, while the choice of colours contrasted the store's dark aesthetic. The end result is an aestheticallypleasing store interior that is as practical as it is stylish.

Demand for glass moveable walls hits all-time high

Glass moveable walls are today's 'en vogue' method of creating light, airy, flexible space with specifications from architects and interior designers at an all-time high.

According to Mark Cowley, who heads up the glass division of leading moveable wall specialist, Style, the demand for glazed partitioning systems has rocketed and seems set to continue.

"Glass moveable, folding and partitioning walls offer such a wide range of applications that we're seeing their popularity significantly intensify in the new build and refurb sectors," said Mark.

Style has further strengthened its partnership with the dormakaba Group earlier in 2021 by securing the exclusive UK distribution of its interior glass Horizontal Sliding Walls (HSW) range.

The partnership means that Style now has sole UK distributor rights of the full suite of glass moveable wall solutions from dormakaba/Hüppe at a time when the market is seeing unprecedented growth.

"The timing for extending that longstanding partnership with the dormakaba Group for its interior glass Horizontal Sliding Walls (HSW) range was perfect," continued Mark. "We can now fulfil our customers' requirements in totality with a complete end-to-end process for acoustic and non-acoustic glass systems, with manual, semi-automatic and fully automatic operation."
